Meet Adeola!

We're delighted to introduce Adeola to you as part of the Gaia Education team as a STEM Educator and Coordinator.

STEM Coordinator
Science and STEM Educator

Adeola joined Gaia in September 2024 and is part of the educator team. She is a STEM Coordinator and Science and STEM Educator.

With eight years of experience teaching in secondary schools, alongside youth work and mentoring, Adeola has worked with young people from different backgrounds and with a range of learning needs. She understands that every learner is different and that what works for one young person might not work for another.

Adeola has a warm approach to teaching and places importance on building good rapport with her learners. She takes time to get to know them and understand how best to support their learning. She enjoys helping young people make sense of topics they may find difficult and recognises that learning can sometimes be challenging. For her, it's important that learners feel comfortable asking questions, making mistakes and giving things a go.

Outside work, Adeola enjoys travelling, dancing and discovering good food. She also enjoys relaxing and spending time with loved ones.
